Else Welsh wanted everyone to know:

“I have no vision loss. I just went to the ophthalmologist for a regular checkup. He told me I needed to see a retina specialist immediately. He called and got an appointment for me 2 days later. The retina guy gave me an injection (in the eye) that day, will have another in 2 weeks, then every 6 weeks for a year. After that an injection every 2 months for the rest of my life. He told me I was very lucky to catch it early, before I had any symptoms.

Just letting you know in case you haven't seen an ophthalmologist lately.

My ophthalmologist took pictures of the retinas, which I think he does every year. He noticed a spot he thought was a wet spot and acted immediately.”
